

Hold Water Level Meet

Well over 80 lake frontage owners of Lake Margrethe met at the Crawford County Court House last Wednesday evening for a discussion on the level set for the lake.

Present were experts from the Michigan Conservation Department, the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey and other governmental authorities to explain the situation to the frontage owners.

The meeting was opened by Willard Cornell as temporary chairman and Dr. R. A. VanVleck was elected as permanent chairman. He in turn appointed Mrs. Willard Cornell as secretary.

Dr. VanVleck discussed the problem at length and then called on Dale Pettengill of Grayling of the United States Geological Survey to explain and define a legal water level. Hans Peterson, District Fisheries Supervisor for the Michigan Conservation Department was called on next. He told of the action taken before the legal water level was set in 1935 and how the dam was operated by the Department until recently when it was discovered that there was no public road open to the dam.

John Rulison, an engineer of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey explained the relationship between ground water levels and the lake level. He stated that he believed through an error the lake level was set at 1133.04 feet above sea level when actually it was supposed to have been 1134.5 feet.

Col. Herbert Layle of the Michigan National Guard, Quartermaster General, also spoke. He accompanied by Major Vessel Case of his department was also in attendance at the session. Col. Layle said that the Guard wanted a good, clean lake with a good shoreline. He added that he would aid the private owners around the lake in arriving at a reasonable level. He explained that he had already started inquiries with other State Departments to see what could be accomplished. He also noted that as of last Wednesday the lake level was 1133.09 feet above sea level.

Richard Foster, an engineer with the Conservation Department, spoke briefly on his experience with lake levels and the charts and graphs of the levels of Lake Margrethe. He urged that the lake after freezing over in the winter, be dropped at least six inches below the legal level in order that the body of water could contain some of the runoff of spring rains and snow melting.

Several property owners spoke on their experience with the rising and falling lake level. Among those called on by the chairman were Charles E. Moore, Dr. C. C. Clippert, Fred R. Welsh and Paul Porter of Fostoria, Ohio, who owns a summer home at the lake.

A standing vote was taken on what the group at the meeting felt about the present level. Only three favored raising the present level, a slightly larger number favored lowering the lake more while the vast majority seemed to like the present level of nearly 1134 feet above sea level.

The Grayling Women's Bowling League met at the home of Mrs. Charles Long Tuesday evening of last week. Officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Robert Sorenson; vice president, Mrs. Marion Burch; secretary, Mrs. Don Akers; Mrs. Howard Hatfield was elected sergeant-at-arms.

The individual fee this year is to be 75¢ which includes the state sanction. This must be paid before three weeks are up either to Mrs. Sorenson or Mrs. Burch. Team sanction is $5.00 per team as in the past. Bowling will be $1.35 like last year.

Teams entered are Spikes, Plaza Grill, Wayside Inn, Audible Insurance, Burns Hardware, Tip Top Togs, Sorenson's Sporting Goods and an unnamed team sponsored by Mrs. Byron Newell.

The playoffs are supposed to be Monday night, September 29th. The time is 9:00 o'clock. If not ready for that date bowling will begin on October 6th.

Anyone wishing to bowl, not already signed up, is to please get in touch with Mrs. Sorenson or Mrs. Burch.

A Tight Battle . . .

"President Truman is in high spirits as he looks ahead to the campaign," says U. S. News and World Report. "He expects a Democrat to live in the White House for the next four years after January, 1953, despite the Republican nomination of Dwight D. Eisenhower. Mr. Truman is putting his faith in an election formula that has brought victory to the Democrats regularly for 20 years."

This will come as something of a shock to those optimists who believe that General Eisenhower's personal appeal and prestige, plus widespread criticism of the Administration on grounds ranging from corruption in high places to the handling of the Korean War, make the GOP a cinch after 20 long, hungry years. Yet Mr. Truman is no wishful thinker, and his confidence is based upon hard political precedents and realities.

U. S. News breaks the President's strategy down in this wise. First of all, he plans on holding 69 electoral votes in the South, while regarding it as possible that the Republicans may pick up the other 59.

Then, the formula provides for concentrating hard on the big-city vote, where labor and minority groups have a major voice. In a number of the states which are most important from the standpoint of electoral votes, one or two big cities usually decide the issue. Examples are New York City in New York; Los Angeles and San Francisco in California; Boston in Massachusetts; Chicago in Illinois.

As U. S. News observes, the Democrats have been doing extraordinarily well in the cities. There are 106 cities with a population in excess of 100,000. In 1932, and again in 1948 the Democrats carried all but 15 of them. In 1936 there was really a debacle—the Republicans carried only two. They got nine in 1940 and 10 in 1944.

According to U. S. News, Mr. Truman believes that his formula will give the Democrats 199 electoral votes in the North. With anticipated "sure-thing" Southern votes, the total becomes 263—two more than is needed to win.

Like all formulas and stratagems, this one could prove to be a total bust. The events of 1932 or 1940 or any other year will not necessarily be repeated in 1952. But the fore-going shows why the Democrats are entitled to some measure of optimism. To quote U. S. News again, "The Democrats have money, jobs, a strong organization, and a foothold in the White House. Mr. Truman is confident he has a winning formula that will keep them there."

This also shows what General Eisenhower and the GOP organization are up against. Their hope is to get most of the farm vote, and to crack the South to some extent. Then, as they well know, they must make a big dent in the metropolitan vote that has been going to the Democrats with clockwork regularity. Eisenhower strategists show a confidence, they can do this. This time, they think, they've got the candidate and the issues.

Nobody who is well-versed in politics expects a walk-over for either party. As the pending campaign can be envisaged now, it will be exceedingly hard fought, and the decision may be an extremely close one, hinging on what happens in two or three states. Both organizations are girding for all-out, no-holds-barred battle.

PARDON MY GUST!

POWER STEERING
on the Roadmaster and Super

BENEATH that big broad bonnet is the reason for this headline.

It's a four-barreled automatic engine-retor—Airpower by name—which has a way of gulping in what the dictionary defines as "a sudden blast of wind" when extra power is needed.

And the way this gorgeous performer can step out as this occurs is something you'll always remember.

For ordinary driving, two barrels are all you need—and two barrels are all that are working. They give you an extra thrifty flow of fuel for round-town cruising.

When extra power is wanted in a hurry—the "reserves" swing into action—feeding extra fuel and extra air in an ever-thrifty mixture, which delivers the greatest horsepower in Buick history.

This is one of many distinctions that endear ROADMASTERS to fine-car owners.

It's a car as rich in finish as it is in power—a car of expansive room—restful silence—level in gait—beautifully responsive to your mood and will.

And it offers the effortless ease of Power Steering* especially engineered by Buick to save your strength in parking and slow-motion maneuvers, and still let you feel a proud sense of command and a sure sense of control on the highway.

There's just one question we'd like to ask: When are you going to come in and enjoy the ride of your life?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Optional at extra cost on ROADMASTER and SUPER only.

Former Resident Wed In Gaylord

Lace and net fashioned the ballerina length gown worn by Miss Patricia Failing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Failing at her marriage to A. J. Carroll D. Scott of the Air Force, foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Jackson all of Gaylord, on September 14. The pulpit center of the Gaylord Methodist Church was decorated with bouquets of gladioli, baby chrysanthemums, and as for the afternoon ceremony performed by the Rev. Raymond R. Lamb, pastor.

The bride's gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice, full skirt, and lace jacket which buttoned to a high Peter Pan collar. Her finger-ring length, veil of illusion edged with lace was held to a cap. Completing the effect, the bride carried a white Bible topped by a lavender orchid corsage, surrounded by small white carnations. She was given in marriage by her father.

Close friends of the bride and bridegroom attended the couple. They are Mrs. Donald Parrish, formerly of Grayling now living in Flint, matron-of-honor, and W. Wayne Tolman of Gaylord, best man.

Others in the bridal party were Mrs. Tolman, bridesmaid, and Charles D. Scott of Pontiac, brother of the bridegroom, groomsmen. Soloist was Miss Phyllis Busch of Gaylord, accompanied by Mrs. Perry P. Fox. Miss Busch sang "The Pledge" and "With This Ring I Thee Wed."

The matron-of-honor's gown was fashioned of blue net and lace, with strapless bodice, full skirt and stole and headpiece of matching net. Her colonial bouquet was salmon shade gladioli. The bridesmaid's gown was fashioned of pink net with matching headpiece and stole. Her bouquet was of white gladioli. The vocalist chose a blue strapless net with matching stole and the organist was attired in black net over satin. Their corsages were of salmon and yellow gladioli respectively.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Failing chose a two-piece brown nylon silk afternoon dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of yellow gladioli. Mrs. Jackson was unable to attend because of ill health.

Following the wedding, the couple greeted more than 100 guests at a reception in the church parlors, and afterward the immediate members of the families met at the groom's home for pictures.

The couple left on a week's honeymoon motor trip through the upper peninsula. They will remain in Gaylord until the bridegroom receives orders on assignment to a new Air Force Base. Mr. Scott is home on his furlough from a year's duty in the Aleutian Islands. He was a member of the bride's class at Gaylord Rural Agricultural School, 1951. Prior to her marriage the bride was employed at Al's Drug Store.

Among those relatives from away were the bride's brother, John Failing and fiancée, Miss Betty Denton, both of Grayling, her brother-in-law and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Millikin of Homer and Mrs. Raymond Calkins of Farwell and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hummel of Maple Forest, the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Wilson and daughter, Arlene of East Jordan.

Guests attending from Grayling were Mr. and Mrs. John McMillan and daughter, Marilyn, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Papendick, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Goss, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lovely, daughter, Jean and son, Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Hurl Deckrow, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Failing, daughter, Loraine, and son, Jimmie, Mrs. Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mathewson, Mrs. Mable Lewis and Mrs. Ace Leng and Mrs. William Leng of Frederic.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

No Longer Two Sides to This Question!

Ever seen those two-family houses they have in some places—with separate front doors and porches—side by side? My sister owns half of one and lives in it, near Philadelphia.

Nice little frame home. Only Sis painted her half brown and the other family always painted theirs green. Ruined the effect—but for years neither family ever thought of suggesting that they both decide on a common shade.

Now Sis writes that their two-toned home is no longer. "I mentioned we were going to repaint," she says. "And they said let's get a color we all like. So we did. A nice shade of gray for both sides."

From where I sit, so often when there's a difference of opinion it's best to sit right down and work things out (like when our volunteer firemen decided to serve both lemonade and beer at their annual picnic last month). Don't let prejudices "color" your opinion of your neighbor. He'll probably be quite as open-minded as you are.

"It's built like the big ones"

—that's why a GMC pickup will last longer, cost less to maintain!

When the big GMC over-the-highway truck and the small pickup, shown above, are loaded to capacity—there's 30,000 pounds difference in their weights.

Yet they are alike in a lot of important ways that make GMC light trucks tops in all-around service!

For GMC is the ONLY pickup truck with all five of the important features which most manufacturers reserve for their bigger, "heavy duty" vehicles.

They are: Tocco-Hardened crankshafts, full-floating piston pins, airplane-type main and rod bearings, rifle-drilled connecting rods and full-pressure lubrication all the way to the piston pins—things that increase the life of any truck.

But that's not all. Don't be lulled to demonstrate how other features like "pillow action" springs and recirculating ball-bearing steering give GMC's a real "passenger-car ride." Come in and see firsthand the fine features that make GMC today's top buy in pickup, panel and stake rack trucks!

Record Army Will Start
Let's begin with opening day, November 15th. Probably a record number of hunters will open the season. Opening day falls on a Saturday. There'll be more noise in the Michigan woods that day than any battle in history ever produced! Lots of deer will be killed and they won't all be bucks. The hornless variety shot by "trigger-happies" will be left to rot in the woods, and the culprits who escape will tell their conscience: "Oh well, they'd be shot the last 3 days anyway, so why should I worry?" Many of these hunters will still consider themselves sportsmen. That's debatable!

As the season moves along and those fatal 3 days approach, more and more bucks will have been killed, and at least one-fourth, or about 100,000 hunters will have gone home with their trophy. Another 200,000 will have "had it." The rugged spirit of the chase doesn't feel so rugged any more. Pocketbooks will have grown slimmer, and mamma will be saying, "No more hunting, Pop! Baby needs new shoes." That leaves 100,000 more or less strong.

Deer Get Smart
The last 3 days fall on a week-end. That's bad for the deer. But deer get smart. All that noise has made them college-educated. Even the fawns get the idea and head for tall timber that's hard to find. So what happens? The success ratio will stay about the same in my opinion.

Another 30,000 deer, with and without horns will be killed in 3 days—and that many only if the weather is good. A customary late November snow storm will cut that figure to 10,000. So, after the ball is over the "disaster" that some people anticipate may not even produce a kill great enough to begin to level off the herd as much as our game experts call for. We'll wait and see. However, if those last 3 days are bright and sunny lots of people who ordinarily love Michigan Outdoors will take the advice of their insurance agents and choose Michigan Indoors for a safe and sane week-end!

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS

HOW MANY DEER WILL WE TAKE?
Everybody else is talking about the new deer-hunting regulations, so we'd better register our opinion while the subject is "hot!" With the northern part of the lower peninsula wide-open for killing any deer, buck, doe or fawn on the last three days of the season, mortal damage might be done to our deer herd if three or four hundred thousand hunters took to the woods with a determined gleam in their eye. However, fortunately for the deer, a few psychological factors are working against this possibility.
